

URBAN POP

ROBIN AUSTIN

Robin Austin, born in Leeds, England, has always been a storyteller—whether earlier in his career, marketing successful global companies, or as the co-founder and creative visionary of Fusion 5, a global branding firm, or now as an artist—creating a rich landscape reflecting images of our shared cultural heritage.

Each signed work is a visual celebration of the moments captured in time. The genius of Austin's artwork is in the exhaustive research that goes into each photo canvas—deftly and artistically composed. The result—a retelling, a chronicling of the spirit of pop culture. With thousands of images—none alike—you never look at the same image in the same way twice. Each viewing reveals a facet of the story anew. It's all there: movies, music, fashion, sex, sports, politics, current events—the iconic stuff that shapes our lives.

Austin has been called “a force of nature, an aesthetic alchemist, who converts cultural emotionality into signature portraits, igniting smiles and attracting fans worldwide.”

Austin is charming, talented and undeniably gifted. His artwork graces the walls of collector's homes, restaurants, clubs, and galleries around the world. He is always thinking and creating his next work.